Short project description:

The project is aimed at promoting the international scientific, research and educational cooperation among francophone PhD students, postdoctoral researchers and supervisors of PhD students in the form of a doctoral school. The doctoral school represents a unique scientific platform that takes place every year in one of the V4 countries. In 2023, the event will be hosted by FrancAvis with the kind support of International Visegrad Fund.

Specific project results:

- Doctoral Conference (Bratislava, 13-14 October 2023)

Presentation of PhD students' research activities, contributions in the field of French linguistics, literature, didactics and translatology, support for the development of PhD students' presentation skills, obtaining feedback from the professional forum.

- Round table for supervisors (during the conference)

Space for discussion of supervisors for the purpose of improving the quality of doctoral study programs, preparation of cooperation for the purpose of exchange study mobilities - research and teaching mobilities, invited lectures at partner academic institutions.

- Networking of PhD students and postdoctoral researchers

Gathering of new favourable contacts which will be useful for the mutual cooperation and new projects with an international participation (projects devoted to the research, education, popularisation of French study programs in V4 countries and in abroad).

- Publication

All papers presented during the conference will be published in the peer-reviewed scientific journal Romanistica Comeniana (the entire issue will be devoted to the contributions of PhD students and invited speakers; reviews will be provided by the constituted scientific committee of the conference).
